

Academic Comprehensive Service Program for Gallagher Student Health & Special Risk

Description of Program Services

I. MEDICAL ASSISTANCE SERVICES

Pre-Trip Plan On Call shall provide up-to-date information either by e-mail, fax or over the phone regarding required vaccinations, health risks, travel restrictions and weather conditions for global destinations worldwide.

Medical Monitoring On Call shall, via telephone, monitor the Participant's conditions when hospitalized and provide ongoing updates to the Participant's family. Depending upon the medical and/or geographical situations, On Call may retain the services of consulting physicians/nurses and/or other medical professionals with relevant areas of expertise to assist in the monitoring of the Participant's condition. On Call does not provide or control the provision of medical services to Participants. The attending medical practitioner and/or the Participant or their representative makes all decisions regarding medical services. The parties understand and agree that the rendering of medical services to a Participant and the result thereof are solely within the control of medical practitioners and/or other providers of the services and advice. On Call and performance of its obligations shall not constitute any undertaking to render any medical services, to assume or guarantee the result of medical services provided on behalf of Participants, or to guarantee that the medical services performed by others will be rendered in accordance with generally accepted standards or procedures.

Emergency Medical Evacuation If a Participant is away from his/her Home and is involved in an accident or suffers sudden illness which in the opinion of the On Call physician requires transportation for further medical treatment, On Call will make arrangements and pay for transfer to the nearest facility capable of providing adequate care or to the facility of the patient's choice.

Benefit is subject to the limitation, terms and conditions as set forth and as determined by On Call International medical personnel, in accordance with local and U.S. authorities.

Medical Repatriation If, in the opinion of the On Call physician, it is medically advisable to transfer a sick or injured Participant who is away from Home to a medical facility nearest his/her Home or to his/her Home for continuing care following stabilization, On Call shall make the arrangements and pay for transfer.

Benefit is subject to the limitation, terms and conditions as set forth and as determined by On Call International medical personnel, in accordance with local and U.S. authorities.

Return of Remains In the event of a Participant's death, On Call shall make the arrangements and pay for casket or air tray, preparation and transportation of his/her remains to his/her Home or to the place of burial.

Benefit is subject to the limitation, terms and conditions as set forth and as determined by On Call International medical personnel, in accordance with local and U.S. authorities.

Return of Dependent Children If a Participant's child(ren) are present but left unattended as a result of the Participant's Medical Evacuation or hospitalization for five (5) days or more, On Call shall make and pay for travel arrangements including a non-medical escort, as needed.

Benefit is subject to the limitation, terms and conditions as set forth and as determined by On Call International medical personnel, in accordance with local and U.S. authorities.

Visit by Family Member / Friend If a Participant is traveling alone and is, or is expected to be, hospitalized for five (5) days or more, upon the Participant's request or the request of the Participant's next of kin, if the Participant is incapacitated, On Call shall make and pay for travel arrangements and suitable hotel accommodations to reunite the Family Participant with the Participant.

Benefit is subject to the limitation, terms and conditions as set forth and as determined by On Call International medical personnel, in accordance with local and U.S. authorities.

Prescription Assistance If a Participant requires prescription medication or eyeglasses not available where he/she is staying, On Call International will consult with the prescribing physician and locate and arrange to send the prescription medication or eyeglasses when it is possible and legally acceptable. The Participant is responsible for the cost of providing the medication or eyeglasses.

Deposit, Advance and Payment Guarantees Deposits, advances and guarantees will be provided for, but not limited to, medical expenses, medical facilities, ground and air ambulances and other like providers to secure service for Participant. Any advances of funds on behalf of the Participant for services which are requested but are either excluded or fall outside the covered benefits of this program shall be charged to the Participant's credit card at the time of service.

Medical, Dental and Pharmacy Referrals On Call shall provide, at the Participant's request, referrals to medical and/or dental professionals and pharmacies in the given geographic area locations of western style medical facilities and English speaking doctors, dentists and other healthcare providers in an area served by On Call to the extent possible.

Dispatch of Medicine On Call shall dispatch to the Participant prescription medicine, when not locally available and legally permissible, upon the written authorization of Participant's Primary Physician. The Participant is responsible for any expenses incurred in this regard, including but not limited, to the cost of the pharmaceuticals, shipping cost, taxes or other import/export duties. These expenses will be billed to the Participant's credit card prior to shipping.

II. TRAVEL ASSISTANCE SERVICES

Pre-Trip Information On Call International will provide to Participants pre-trip information such as visa, passport and inoculation requirements; cultural information; weather conditions; embassy and consulate referrals; foreign exchange rates; and travel advisories.

24/7 Emergency Travel Arrangements At the Participant's request, On Call shall assist Participant once a trip has started with changing airline, hotel or car rental reservations.

Translator and Interpreter Referral On Call International will provide the Participant with referrals to local translators and interpreters in the case of communication problems which cannot be solved via telephone. The Participant is responsible for the selection and payment of the translator or interpreter.

Emergency Travel Funds Assistance On Call shall provide assistance to Participants by arranging for the forwarding of funds from Participant's credit cards or family Participants. Any fees associated with the transfer of funds will be the responsibility of the Participant.

Legal Consultation and Referral If a Participant is away from Home and is arrested, or requires the services of an attorney, On Call shall arrange for an initial telephone consultation with an attorney without charge to Participant. If needed, a Participant will be referred to an attorney in the appropriate geographical area. Fees and costs charged by the referred attorney shall be the responsibility of Participant.

Lost/Stolen Travel Documents Assistance On Call shall provide assistance to Participants by arranging for the replacement of passports, airline documents, birth certificates and other travel-related documents. Any fees required for the acquisition or forwarding of these documents is the responsibility of the Participant.

Emergency Message Forwarding In the event a Participant is unable to reach an employer, family Participant or traveling companion, On Call shall forward a message via telephone to the intended party.

Lost Luggage Assistance On Call shall assist the Participant with the tracking of luggage lost in transit.

III. SECURITY ASSISTANCE SERVICES

Political Evacuation If Participant requires emergency evacuation due to political or military events that results in circumstances described as a Covered Event, On Call International shall arrange and pay for Participant's transportation to the nearest safe location. Once the Participant has been transported to the Safe Haven, On Call shall pay and arrange for accommodations if Participant is delayed at the safe haven. On Call shall arrange and pay for airfare to return Participant to his/her Country of Domicile or alternate study/work location following a Political Evacuation.

The method of transportation will be as deemed most appropriate to ensure his/her safety. If evacuation becomes impractical due to hostile or dangerous conditions, On Call will maintain contact with and advise Participant until evacuation becomes viable or the political or social upheaval has resolved.

Should commercial transportation be available, but transportation to the commercial transportation departure point represents an imminent threat to the Participants safety, On Call shall arrange and pay for his/her secure transport to the departure point.

Benefit is subject to the limitation, terms and conditions as set forth and as determined by On Call International security personnel, in accordance with local and U.S. authorities.

Natural Disaster Evacuation If Participant requires emergency evacuation due to a Natural Disaster that results in circumstances described as a Covered Event, On Call International will arrange and pay for evacuation from a safe departure point to the nearest safe location. Once the Participant has been transported to the Safe Haven, On Call shall arrange and pay for accommodations if Participant is delayed at the safe haven. On Call shall arrange and pay for airfare to return Participant to his/her Country of Domicile or alternate study/work location following a Natural Disaster Evacuation.

The method of transportation will be as deemed most appropriate to ensure Participant's safety. If evacuation becomes impractical due to hostile or dangerous conditions, On Call will maintain contact with and advise the Participant until evacuation becomes viable or the natural disaster situation has been resolved.

Should commercial transportation be available, but transportation to the commercial transportation departure point represents an imminent threat to the Participants safety, On Call shall arrange and pay for his/her secure transport to the departure point.
